Competing in Other Pageants and Holding Other Titles

The winners (Petite Miss, Little Miss, Junior Miss, Preteen Miss, Young Miss, Royal Miss, Mini Majestic, and Majestic Miss) must forfeit any title they hold at the time of crowning (unless they will farewell within 1 month of being crowned a Garner title). If the winner decides to not give up a previous title then the Garner title will be revoked and the crown, sash, trophies, and prizes must be returned. There will not be any refunds. If the title holder competes in another pageant and wins before her farewell for the Garner title, then the Garner title will be revoked (unless the new title is awarded within a month prior to farewell). This means that no appearances can be made representing that Garner title and she will not be allowed to farewell at the pageant. If the Garner title holder decides to compete at NCOLM and she wins then she may still make appearances with the court if she chooses to do so, but she cannot farewell. She could participate as a visiting queen and entertain at the Garner pageant. If a girl holds a title of Carolina Princess (any preliminary) they are allowed to compete and hold a Garner title if they win.
